

Are you called in retirement to live out the Creighton University Jesuit tradition of service in the world?

Experience Making a Difference!

Through the Ignatian Volunteer Corps, hundreds of people are choosing to put their leadership experience, skill and wisdom into service for others.

At IVC we believe that the life experience, wisdom, and skills of retired and semi-retired men and women can transform the world through justice, rooted in Gospel values. IVC animates the expertise of individuals over 50 who have the passion and commitment to direct their attention to issues impacting our region.

IVC's members use their time and experience to give back and make a difference. They are leaders of change, offering vital resources to organizations, churches and schools that are at the heart of these struggling communities. Through their direct service among the materially poor, members enter the lived experience of others, showing respect for the dignity and equality of those they serve and serve with.

Members are sustained through their commitment to Ignatian Spirituality and the community they create with one another. Seeking the presence of God in each person, they bring their stories back to one another in community to reflect, enrich, teach, and learn.
