IMPORTANT INFORMATION: COBRA Continuation Coverage and other Health Coverage Alternatives

This letter contains important information about your COBRA continuation coverage rights as well as other health coverage options that may be available to you, including coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace. You may be able to get coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace that costs less than COBRA continuation coverage. For more information on the Health Insurance Marketplace go to www.HealthCare.gov or call 1-800-318-2596. Please read the information in this notice very carefully before you make your decision. If you choose to elect COBRA continuation coverage, you should use the COBRA Continuation Election Form accompanying this letter or one of the other methods described in the Election Form.

Su cobertura de seguro de salud que Usted tenía por medio de su compañía ha sido cancelada. Este aviso contiene un resumen en inglés de sus derechos para elegir a continuar su cobertura de seguro de salud. Si Usted tiene dificultad para entender cualquier parte de este aviso, debería llamar al (866) 451-3399 durante el horario de 6:00 AM a 9:00 PM lunes a viernes, a excepción de días festivos.

You are receiving this letter because on 11/30/2022 you experienced an event of a/an Termination which constitutes a qualifying event under the Sample Company Inc group health plan(s) ("the plan"). As a result, your coverage, and that of your covered dependent(s), if any, will end on the date(s) set forth on the COBRA Continuation Election Form accompanying this letter.

Federal law requires that most group health plans (including this plan) give employees and their families the opportunity to continue their health care coverage through COBRA when there is a "qualifying event" that would result in a loss of coverage under an employer's plan.

COBRA Continuation Coverage

COBRA continuation coverage is the same coverage that the plan gives to other participants or beneficiaries under the plan who are not receiving continuation coverage. Each qualified beneficiary who elects COBRA continuation coverage will have the same rights under the plan as other participants or beneficiaries covered under the plan. Depending on the type of qualifying event, "qualified beneficiaries" can include the employee (or former employee or retired employee) covered under the group health plan, the covered employee's spouse, and the dependent children of the covered employee.

Review Your COBRA Options Online

You can review your COBRA options by logging into cobralogin.wexhealth.com or by downloading the WEX COBRA mobile app. You will need your registration code found in your New Member Login Notice located in this packet in order to log in.

How to Elect COBRA Coverage

Instructions for electing COBRA continuation coverage are provided in the enclosed COBRA Election Form.

Other Coverage Options Besides COBRA Continuation Coverage

Instead of enrolling in COBRA continuation coverage, there may be other more affordable coverage options for you and your family through the Health Insurance Marketplace, Medicaid, or other group health plan coverage options (such as a spouse's plan) through what is called a "special enrollment period." Some of these options may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage. You should compare your other coverage options with COBRA continuation coverage and choose the coverage that is best for you. For example, if you move to other coverage you may pay more out of pocket than you would under COBRA because the new coverage may impose a new deductible. When you lose job-based health coverage, it is important that you choose carefully between COBRA continuation coverage and your other coverage options because once you've made your choice, it can be difficult or impossible to switch to another coverage option.

Cost of COBRA Continuation Coverage

Each qualified beneficiary must pay the entire cost of continuation coverage plus an administrative fee, where applicable. This amount may not exceed 102% (or, in the case of an extension of continuation coverage due to a disability, 150%) of the total cost of coverage for a similarly situated plan participant or beneficiary who is not receiving COBRA continuation coverage. The required monthly payment for each option is described in the enclosed COBRA Election Form.

Other coverage options may cost less. If you choose to elect continuation coverage, you don't have to send any payment with the Election Form. Important information about paying your premium is provided below and in the COBRA Election Form. You may be able to get coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace that costs less than COBRA continuation coverage. You can learn more about the Marketplace below.

Payment of COBRA Coverage Premiums

First payment for COBRA continuation coverage

You must make your first payment for COBRA continuation coverage no later than 45 days after the date of your election. (This is the date your COBRA Election Form is postmarked, if mailed.) If you do not make your first payment in full no later than 45 days after the date of your election, you will lose all COBRA continuation coverage rights under the plan. Your first payment must cover the cost of COBRA continuation coverage from the time your coverage under the plan was lost through the end of the month, as well as any premiums that become due prior to the end of the 45-day period. You are responsible for making sure that the amount of your first payment is correct. You may contact WEX Health, Inc. Staging at (866) 451-3399 to confirm the correct amount of your first payment.

Monthly payments for COBRA continuation coverage

After you make your first payment for COBRA continuation coverage, you must make monthly payments for each subsequent month of COBRA continuation coverage. The current amount of this premium is explained in the enclosed COBRA Election Form. The premium may change in the future. Under the plan, each of these monthly payments for COBRA continuation coverage is due on the first day of the month for that month's coverage period. Thus, if you make a monthly payment on or before the first day of the month for the month to which it applies, your coverage under the plan will continue for that month without any break. The plan will not send monthly notices of payments due for these coverage periods

Grace periods for monthly payments

Although monthly payments are due on the first day of each month, you will be given a grace period of 30 days after the first day of the month to make each monthly payment. The grace period does not apply for purposes of your first payment as discussed above. However, if you pay a monthly payment later than the first day of the coverage period to which it applies, but before the end of the grace period for the month, your coverage under the plan will be suspended as of the first day of the month and then retroactively reinstated (going back to the first day of the month) when the monthly payment is received. This means that any claim you submit for benefits while your coverage is suspended may be denied and may have to be resubmitted once your coverage is reinstated. If you fail to make a monthly payment before the end of the grace period for that month, you will lose all rights to COBRA continuation coverage under the plan. Payments postmarked after the grace period are late. Late payments will not be accepted, and coverage will terminate with no possibility of reinstatement. Proof of timely payment is your responsibility.

Length of COBRA Coverage Period

If elected, COBRA continuation coverage can last for a maximum continuation period described in the enclosed COBRA Election Form, beginning on the date of your qualifying event or loss of coverage, whichever is later.

Generally, in the case of a loss of coverage due to the end of employment or reduction in hours of employment, if elected, COBRA continuation coverage may be continued up to a total of 18 months. If, however, you become (or became) entitled to Medicare benefits less than 18 months before your termination or reduction in hours of employment, your spouse and dependents may be entitled to continue COBRA coverage up to the greater of either: (a) 36 months from the date of your Medicare entitlement; or (b) 18 months from the date of your qualifying event, or loss of coverage, whichever is later. For example, if you become entitled to Medicare eight months before the date on which your employment terminates, COBRA coverage for your spouse and eligible dependents can last up to 36 months after the date of Medicare entitlement, which is equal to 28 months after the date of the qualifying event (36 months minus 8 months). If you think this extension may apply, you should notify WEX Health, Inc. Staging.

How Can You Extend the Length of COBRA Continuation Coverage?

If you elect COBRA continuation coverage and your initial qualifying event is the covered employee's termination or reduction in hours of employment, an extension of the maximum period of coverage may be available if a qualified beneficiary is disabled or a second qualifying event occurs. You must notify WEX Health, Inc. Staging in writing of a disability or a second qualifying event in order to extend the period of COBRA continuation coverage. Failure to provide notice of a disability or second qualifying event will eliminate the right to extend the period of COBRA continuation coverage.

If your spouse or dependent children are qualified beneficiaries and they experience another qualifying event while receiving 18 months (or 29 months in the case of a disability extension, discussed below) of COBRA continuation coverage, they may be allowed up to 36-months of COBRA continuation coverage. A second qualifying event may include your death, divorce or legal separation or becoming entitled to Medicare benefits (under Part A, Part B, or both) or your dependent child's ceasing to be eligible for coverage as a dependent under the plan. These events extend the original maximum continuation period of COBRA continuation coverage only if they would have caused your spouse or dependent child(ren), if any, to lose coverage under the plan if the original qualifying event had not occurred. To receive this extension, you and/or your spouse and dependent child(ren), must notify WEX Health, Inc. Staging in writing within 60 days of the occurrence of these events. If you fail to provide timely notice of a second qualifying event, your notification will be rejected and any additional COBRA continuation coverage beyond the original 18-month (or 29-month) period will not be offered.

Social Security Disability Determination

If it is determined that you or any other qualified beneficiary in your family (e.g., your spouse or dependent child(ren), if any) was determined to be disabled (by the Social Security Administration) at any time during the first 60 days of COBRA coverage or before COBRA continuation coverage began and the individual is still disabled at the end of the original maximum continuation period of coverage (generally 18 months), the original maximum COBRA continuation period may be extended up to an additional 11 months for all qualified beneficiaries who elected COBRA continuation coverage on account of the initial qualifying event. This extension only applies if WEX Health, Inc. Staging is notified in writing before the end of the initial maximum COBRA period (generally 18 months) and within 60 days of the later of: (1) the date the qualified beneficiary is notified of the disability determination by the Social Security Administration; (2) the date you terminated or reduced your hours of employment; and (3) the date on which coverage would be lost under the plan as a result of your termination or reduction in hours of employment. If timely written notice of the disability determination is not provided, the notification will be rejected and any additional COBRA continuation coverage beyond the original 18-month period will not be offered. If the qualified beneficiary is no longer considered disabled, any COBRA continuation coverage extended beyond the 18-month limit that would otherwise apply will be terminated for the disabled qualified beneficiary and all related qualified beneficiaries. Federal law requires that you notify WEX Health, Inc. Staging of a determination by the Social Security Administration that you, your spouse, or dependent child(ren) are no longer disabled within 30 days of such a determination. For more information about extending the length of COBRA continuation coverage visit <https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/workers-and-families/changing-jobs-and-job-loss>.

Early Termination of COBRA Coverage

COBRA continuation coverage may terminate for the qualified beneficiary early if: (1) The required premium payment is not paid when due; (2) After the date of the COBRA election the qualified beneficiary becomes covered under another group health plan; (3) After the date of the COBRA election the qualified beneficiary becomes entitled to Medicare benefits (including Medicare Part A, Part B, or both); (4) All of Sample Company Inc group health plans are terminated; (5) If coverage is extended an additional 11 months due to disability, a final determination by the Social Security Administration that the individual is no longer disabled; (6) COBRA continuation coverage may also be terminated for any reason the plan would terminate coverage of a participant or beneficiary not receiving COBRA continuation coverage (such as fraud). Qualified beneficiaries must notify WEX Health, Inc. Staging promptly if, after electing COBRA, they become covered under another group health plan or become entitled to Medicare. If this notice is not timely and properly provided, the qualified beneficiary's COBRA continuation coverage may be terminated retroactively, and the qualified beneficiary may be required to repay a portion of the benefits received.

Trade Act Adjustment Assistance

Special COBRA rights may apply if you lose coverage because of termination of employment or a reduction in hours of employment and you qualify for a “trade readjustment allowance” or “alternative trade adjustment assistance” under a federal law called the Trade Act of 2002. Generally, in this situation, you may be entitled to a second opportunity to elect COBRA continuation coverage for yourself and certain family members, but only within a limited period of 60 days (or less) and only during the six months immediately after your initial loss of coverage. You may also be eligible to take a tax credit or get an advance payment of 72.5% of premiums paid for COBRA continuation coverage. You must contact the Plan Administrator promptly after qualifying for assistance under the Trade Act or you may lose these special COBRA rights. More information can be found by visiting www.doleta.gov/tradeact/ or www.irs.gov/HCTC, or by contacting the Plan Administrator.

Special Rule for Employees in the Uniformed Services

If you are an employee and your coverage under the plan terminates due to your service in the uniformed services, you may elect special continuation coverage under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) for yourself and your covered spouse and covered dependents. This special continuation of coverage may extend for up to 24 months beginning from the date your plan coverage would otherwise terminate due to your service in the uniformed services. Service in the uniformed services includes your performance of duty on a voluntary or involuntary basis in the Armed Forces (including the Coast Guard and the Reserves), the Army National Guard, the Air National Guard, and the commissioned corps of the Public Health Service. If you believe this special continuation of coverage rule applies to you, please contact the Plan Administrator.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?

The Marketplace offers “one-stop shopping” to find and compare private health insurance options. In the Marketplace, you could be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premiums and cost-sharing reductions (amounts that lower your out-of-pocket costs for deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments) right away, and you can see what your premium, deductibles, and out-of-pocket costs will be before you make a decision to enroll. Through the Marketplace you’ll also learn if you qualify for free or low-cost coverage from Medicaid or the Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP). You can access the Marketplace for your state at www.HealthCare.gov. Coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace may cost less than COBRA continuation coverage. Being offered COBRA continuation coverage won’t limit your eligibility for coverage or for a tax credit through the Marketplace.

When can I enroll in Marketplace coverage?

You always have 60 days from the time you lose your job-based health coverage to enroll in the Marketplace. That is because losing your job-based health coverage is a “special enrollment” event. After 60 days your special enrollment period will end and you may not be able to enroll, so you should take action right away. In addition, during what is called an “open enrollment” period, anyone can enroll in Marketplace coverage. To find out more about enrolling in the Marketplace, such as when the next open enrollment period will be and what you need to know about qualifying events and special enrollment periods, visit www.HealthCare.gov.

If I sign up for COBRA continuation coverage, can I switch to coverage in the Marketplace? What about if I choose Marketplace coverage and want to switch back to COBRA continuation coverage?

If you sign up for COBRA continuation coverage you can switch to a Marketplace plan during a Marketplace open enrollment period. You can also end your COBRA continuation coverage early and switch to a Marketplace plan if you have another qualifying event such as marriage or birth of a child through something called a “special enrollment period.” Be careful though – if you terminate your COBRA continuation coverage early without another qualifying event, you’ll have to wait to enroll in Marketplace coverage until the next open enrollment period, and could end up without any health coverage in the interim.

Once you've exhausted your COBRA continuation coverage and the coverage expires, you'll be eligible to enroll in Marketplace coverage through a special enrollment period, even if Marketplace open enrollment has ended. If you sign up for Marketplace coverage instead of COBRA continuation coverage, you cannot switch to COBRA continuation coverage under any circumstances.

Can I enroll in another group health plan?

You may be eligible to enroll in coverage under another group health plan (like a spouse's plan), if you request enrollment within 30 days of the loss of coverage. If you or your dependent chooses to elect COBRA continuation coverage instead of enrolling in another group health plan for which you're eligible, you'll have another opportunity to enroll in the other group health plan within 30 days of losing your COBRA continuation coverage.

Can I enroll in Medicare instead of COBRA continuation coverage after my group health plan coverage ends?

In general, if you don't enroll in Medicare Part A or B when you are first eligible because you are still employed, after the initial enrollment period for Medicare Part A or B, you have an 8-month special enrollment period to sign up, beginning on the earlier of the month after your employment ends or the month after group health plan coverage based on current employment ends. These rules are different for people with End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD). For more information visit <https://www.medicare.gov/sign-up-change-plans/how-do-i-get-parts-a-b/part-a-part-b-sign-up-periods>.

If you don't enroll in Medicare Part B and elect COBRA continuation coverage instead, you may have to pay a Part B late enrollment penalty and you may have a gap in coverage if you decide you want Part B later. If you elect COBRA continuation coverage and then enroll in Medicare Part A or B before the COBRA continuation coverage ends, the Plan may terminate your continuation coverage. However, if Medicare Part A or B is effective on or before the date of the COBRA election, COBRA coverage may not be discontinued on account of Medicare entitlement, even if you enroll in the other part of Medicare after the date of the election of COBRA coverage.

If you are enrolled in both COBRA continuation coverage and Medicare, Medicare will generally pay first (primary payer) and COBRA will pay second. Certain COBRA continuation coverage plans may pay as if secondary to Medicare, even if you are not enrolled in Medicare.

For more information visit <https://www.medicare.gov/medicare-and-you>.

What factors should I consider when choosing coverage options?

Premiums: your previous plan can charge up to 102% of total plan premiums for COBRA coverage. Other options, like coverage on a spouse's plan or through the Marketplace may be less expensive; Provider Networks: if you're currently getting care or treatment for a condition, a change in your health coverage may affect your access to a particular health care provider. You may want to check to see if your current health care providers participate in a network as you consider options for health coverage; Drug Formularies: If you're currently taking medication, a change in your health coverage may affect your costs for medication – and in some cases, your medication may not be covered by another plan. You may want to check to see if your current medications are listed in drug formularies for other health coverage; Severance payments: If you lost your job and got a severance package from your former employer, your former employer may have offered to pay some or all of your COBRA payments for a period of time. In this scenario, you may want to contact the Department of Labor at 1-866-444-3272 to discuss your options; Service Areas: Some plans limit their benefits to specific service or coverage areas – so if you move to another area of the country, you may not be able to use your benefits. You may want to see if your plan has a service or coverage area, or other similar limitations; and, Other Cost-Sharing: In addition to premiums or contributions for health coverage, you probably pay copayments, deductibles, coinsurance, or other amounts as you use your benefits. You may want to check to see what the cost-sharing requirements are for other health coverage options. For example, one option may have much lower monthly premiums, but a much higher deductible and higher copayments.
